Hi! My name's Tomas. I live in a very small flat in Oxford and I'm a student. I'm from Sweden. My parents live and work there. My dad works for a newspaper and writes short stories for magazines. My mum is a secretary in an office. She's often bored with her job.

I share my flat with three other boys who also study at Oxford university. We work hard during the week, but at weekends we often invite a lot of friends to our house. I'm not a very good cook, but I enjoy cooking for my guests when they come to visit us.

I love climbing and I'm interested in Geography but I am afraid of heights because when I was a child I had an accident in the mountains. That is why I climb only when the mountains are not too high.
